

Those who use the public airwaves are obliged to serve not sway or prejudice the public on political matters. Sinclair's decision to force their 62 stations to air "Stolen Honor," an anti-Kerry documentary that begs the issue of accuracy, just days before the election is a blatant violation of FCC laws.

We need to fill our airwaves with real people engaged in real discussion and debate and representing a variety of different points of view. The proposed airing of "Stolen Honor" in this manner (as news or truth) is nothing short of propaganda. Freedom-loving Americans deserve better - that the FCC enforce ongoing fair and balanced coverage of all issues - political and otherwise.
